

Birstall Playgroup for Children with Special Needs

Chat & Share.

Recently we have made a few changes to the SNPG website, including: -

- Useful Resource
- Songs & Stories
- Resources for Carer's
- Chat & Share forum

Whilst a number of these options are still under construction, we would like to invite you to our new Chat & Share forum.

The aim of the forum is to provide a opportunity for members to share thoughts, ideas, photo's, videos & advice.

Before posting we ask everyone to read & agree to the forum rules.

Rules

This Special Needs Playgroup forum is a supportive online community of current and former parents, carers & staff/helpers who understand the ups and downs of caring and raising children who have learning difficulties or disabilities.

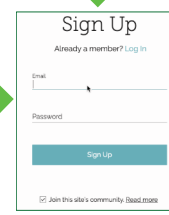

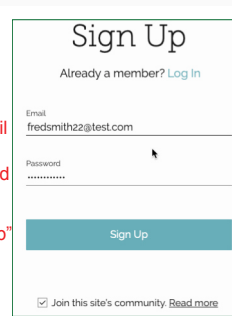

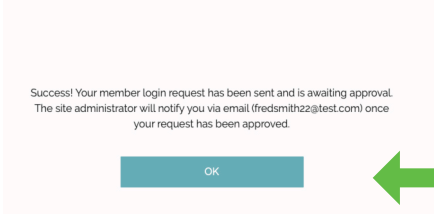

To keep our online community a welcoming, supportive and safe place for all, we ask that all members, before posting in the forum, please take a few minutes to read these guidelines.

In summary, we ask everyone to:

- Be respectful and remember that there is a real person reading your message
- Be supportive
- Be sensitive to how others may be feeling
- Use the forum primarily to give and receive support
- Help to make the forum easy to use for other members

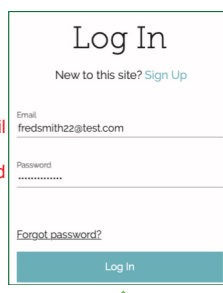

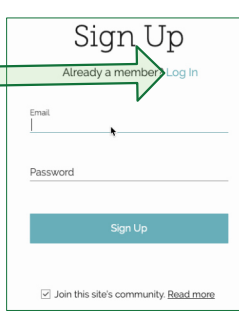

Our forum is monitored by a team of volunteer moderators ('the Mods' as they are known) and our staff team. The Mods will be looking out for any posts which do not follow the forum guidelines and will remove them if necessary. We cannot guarantee that one of us will be on the forum at all times, especially at weekends and at night, but we will respond to any posts or private messages addressed to us as quickly as we can.

To gain access to the forum go to <https://www.birstallplaygroup.org.uk>

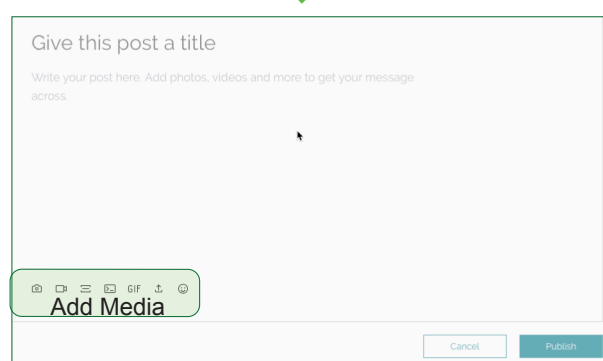

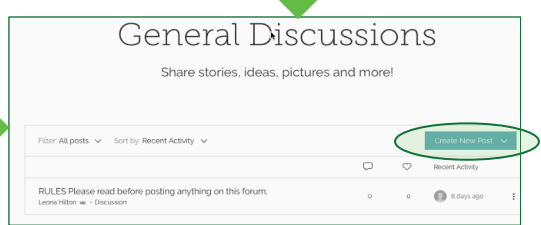

Your email
Your choice of password
Click on "Sign Up"

Your member login request has been sent and is awaiting approval. The site administrator will notify you via email to the email address you gave in your login, once your request has been approved. Once you receive your email acknowledgement, click on the "Login In" link.

Your email
Your password
Click on "Log In"

Give your post a title. Type in your message/question etc. Add photo/video etc. from the Media tab at the bottom of the post window. Your post request will be sent to our Moderators for approval before final posting.

Please note. This forum is open to parents, staff and volunteers as members, all those who have a login will be able to see posts & content.